

Dr. Kim Stanton is a lawyer at Goldblatt Partners LLP where she works in the area of Indigenous rights. In addition to practicing law in British Columbia and Ontario, Kim has worked with the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestinian Refugees in the Gaza Strip and with the Ghana Centre for Democratic Development in Accra, where she was an Official Observer of Ghana's National Reconciliation Commission. Kim was appointed to the Ontario Health Professions and Health Services Appeal and Review Boards in 2012. From 2013-2017, she was the Legal Director of the Women's Legal Education and Action Fund (LEAF), a national equality rights organization. In 2016, the federal Minister of the Status of Women appointed Kim to her Advisory Council on the Federal Strategy Against Gender-based Violence. She is a Senior Fellow of Massey College at the University of Toronto where she completed her Masters and Doctorate degrees in Law.